

The POULTRY YARD

A Department Devoted To Building Up the Poultry Industry In Coffee County
BY J. F. BRUNSON

Last week I told you or rather promised to give you information this week relative to placing eggs on cold storage through the Alabama Farm Bureau.

According to the situation confronting us in the price of eggs at this date there must be something done or we will be forced to sell eggs at less than cost of production. This plan which is given by the Farm Bureau is a solution to the present condition. All people who have eggs for sale cannot follow this plan, as shipments will have to be made by the case, which will eliminate the small producer. But if we can get the larger producer to ship his eggs for storage the demand at home will be strong and the small producer should be able to find a ready market at home. Some effort will have to be made by the individual in making preparations for storing his eggs. First, I will ask that you see Mr. Ray, our County Agent, and let him give you the proper start. This information will be sufficient as to whether you are able to make the proper start for shipping cold storage this spring.

PERMITS—This project is not open to promiscuous shippers. The County Agent will issue permits to poultrymen only after he is thoroughly satisfied that the producer is fully acquainted with the plan and operations of the project and agrees to comply with all requirements.

CASES—The proper kind of shipping cases will be purchased in quantities by the Alabama Farm Bureau, Montgomery, and supplied to poultrymen through local county farm bureaus.

RATES—Eggs will be stored cooperatively at the plant of the Birmingham Ice & Cold Storage Co., Birmingham, thereby enabling each individual shipper to secure a minimum cold storage rate of two cents per dozen eggs for the season.

PAYMENTS—The shipper will be advanced 20 cents per dozen when eggs are received in storage. This advance check will be issued by the bureau upon receipt of express receipt and shipping tag coupon from the storage company. This advance check will be mailed every two weeks to the county farm bureau. The shipper is required to purchase cases and repay express charges to Birmingham. The net sale value of eggs stored will be forwarded the shipper through the county farm bureau of the Alabama Farm Bureau, Montgomery, immediately after the eggs are sold.

SALES—The Alabama Farm Bureau assumes all responsibility for the sale of the eggs placed in cold storage under this project and obligates itself to consummate sales in a manner most advantageous to shippers.

EXPRESS RECEIPTS—Shipper is requested to secure duplicate express receipts for each shipment of eggs. One express receipt should be left with or mailed to the county farm bureau for record.

SHIPPING TAGS—Shipping tags will be prepared and issued by the bureau. County Agents should request a supply from this source. County Agent should fill out tag for each shipper giving him one double tag for each case of eggs the poultryman proposes to ship. The tag must be divided and placed on each case as instructed. A shipper's code is used in order to definitely identify each shipper's eggs. Suppose your code number to be 26. That will mean every shipment you make will be number 26.

The express rates from Elba to Birmingham is 80 cents per crate of about 56 pounds, or $1.31 per hundred pounds. This price will be shipped in order to make a saving in carriage charge.

AGREEMENT—It is understood that any poultryman entering into this project shall specifically comply with the general plans outlined above and observe the following requirements for cold storage:

1. Use one white-wash or cotton wool cases equipped with hold-it-flats.
2. White and brown eggs will be accepted for storage but white eggs will command a higher price when withdrawn from storage.
3. These must be selected to average close to 24 ounces per dozen or 45 pounds of eggs per crate.
4. Place eggs ready for storage should weigh 50-58 pounds.
5. Broken eggs in cold storage per case often causes the loss of several more.
6. Eggs for cold storage must be gathered daily and preferably twice daily in warm weather.
7. Keep in a cool, dry place, avoid storing eggs in a moist basement or warm pit.
8. Place eggs small end down.
9. Avoid shipping cracked or dirty eggs.
10. Don't let eggs stand in sun or rain while waiting trains.
11. Infertile eggs store best. More care to avoid heat effects must be taken if fertile eggs are stored.
12. Eggs laid from hens that have been fed cottonseed meal will not store satisfactorily.
13. Eggs for storage must come from flocks fed a balanced feed as approved by the County Agent. No cottonseed meal in any form either alone or in mixed feed shall be used in production for eggs in storage. You sign blanks obligating yourself to carry instructions as above.

Judging from experience gained by those storing during the past two years poultrymen should receive from 4 to 10 cents per dozen additional for their eggs after they are stored.

The information I hold does not say so, but I imagine that eggs stored will be on a code number basis and that these eggs will be checked or cancelled later, and if found lost the actual shipper will be the loser. Therefore if you wish to place eggs on storage be sure that you are shipping the right kind of eggs; eggs that will keep, and too, give satisfaction when used later.

Watch next week's issue. I am going to tell you more about baby chicks and your brooder.

Many New Candidates Qualify For County Posts

Since the last issue of The Clipper seven new announcements have been added to our announcement column. Six of these are for county races. Congressman Henry B. Steagall reads his formal announcement for re-election as congressman from the third district. Mr. Steagall states that he expects to visit the district in the near future if he can arrange to absent himself from his post. His friends throughout the county will be interested in his announcement for re-election.

Mr. W. H. Edmonds, of Enterprise, was here last week and authorized us to print his formal announcement for Tax Assessor. He is one of Enterprise's most prominent business men and has many friends throughout the county who will be interested in his campaign. He is a good man and is well qualified for the office.

We are today carrying the formal announcement of Mr. Jack D. Lee, for Representative in the Legislature from Coffee. Jack does not need any introduction at our hands. He is well known throughout the county, and his friends predict that he will ally serve the county in the Legislature, should he be favored with the nomination.

Mr. A. J. Morrow, prominent Elba business man, enters the race for Tax Collector, having qualified last week for the race. Mr. Crook has always taken an active part in public affairs of the county, and is deeply interested in education. He has many good friends who will be interested in his entry in the race, who predict a good showing for him in the primary.

Mr. L. F. Whitehead, who lives in the Wise Mill section, is another entrant in the race for Tax Collector. Uncle Pat is a member of the Board of Registrars of the county and is well known to the citizens in every section. Great Interest Being Shown In Better Dairying Cattle

An effort is being made to form a "bull ring," in which four communities will go in together and purchase a good bull of known breeding and at the end of every two years these communities will exchange bulls to avoid inbreeding, thereby giving each community the services of four bulls for the price of one. The Curtis community and Basin community have already made up money to buy their bulls and the bulls have been bought.

It is hoped that one can be placed at the Danley's Cross Roads and Pine Level communities within a very short time, thereby completing the ring.

If there are any other communities interested in securing a good bull or good cows or calves, it will be glad to work with you on the proposition.

W. M. RAY, County Agent.

It is expected that a large delegation of Coffee County from the Northwestern part of the county will avail themselves of this opportunity of hearing the Judge.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. DeVane have moved to their farm several miles north of Elba.

Messadame William Bullard, Gordon Prescott, W. M. Tucker and Miss Mattie Mae Bullard went to Montgomery shopping Friday.

7,600 Pounds Chickens Sold Here Tuesday

Farmers of the Elba territory received a total of $1,000.00 for 7,600 pounds of poultry sold here Tuesday at the co-operative poultry sale held by the Farm Bureau. This was a larger sale than the last one staged by the Farm Bureau, and one of the best held here since the co-operative sales have been inaugurated. The chickens were bought by the Tennessee Egg Company.

The car was stationed at New Brockton Wednesday and will be in Enterprise today. It was expected that a full car load would be picked up in the county.

Last Co-operative Hog Sale Tuesday, March 18

Tuesday, March 18, has been set for the last co-operative hog sale to be held in Elba unless there are enough hogs listed with County Agent Ray to insure a later sale. Remember if you have any hogs you want to feed later than March 18, to list them with the County Agent and if there is enough listed to make a car shipment we will have a later sale.

Dr. Stanley Gives Report On County Health Work

This article is intended as a correction of our article that appeared in The Enterprise, Ledger, The Elba Clipper and the Montgomery Advertiser about three weeks ago and also a slight addition to bring this up to March 14, 1930. That article stated that 2,500 school children had been examined in the last thirty days and more than 1,000 Dental Examinations made. Ninety days would have been approximately correct for the above.

Up to November 1st, 1929, there had been 670 Dental Examinations by dentists, assisted by the county nurse, Miss Esie B. Cain, made during the present school term.

We began our regular Physical Examinations in the schools on November 4, 1929, and up to March 1st, 1930, there had been 2,912 school children in addition to 1,008 Dental Examinations, by dentists, assisted by the county nurse—Examinations completed in forty-three schools.

The principal defects found on these examinations have been hookworm disease, defective teeth and diseased tonsils.

We have started our school follow-up work by giving 795 treatments for hookworm during January and February and Miss Cain has made quite a number of home visits during February.

In addition to the above we have carried on our regular Communicable Disease Control, T. B. Control work and Maternity and Infancy work with some Texas Antitoxin Administrations for Diptheria, a few Typhoid Inoculations and Smallpox Vaccinations.

Our Sanitary Inspector, Mr. J. C. Foley, has approved 125 Sanitary Pit Privies and 10 Sewer and Septic Tank Connections in addition to his regular inspection program, during the months of January and February.

Judge Carnley Accepts
Invitation To Pine Level

Enterprise, Ala., March 4, 1930. The Elba Clipper.
Dear Editor:—

I have accepted an invitation to be at Pine Level in Coffee County Friday night and make a talk. This is especially interesting to me as I was born in Beat 19, Coffee County and I expect to discuss "Candidates for Governor" just a little on that occasion. It will not be a political occasion, but again I hope the violin music staged there Friday night will bring back my childhood memories. I know there are no better fiddlers on earth than in the section of the county where I was born and reared to manhood.

I was born and reared to manhood and I am expecting a real treat for the big crowd who will attend the occasion Friday night, March 7th. Elba should hear the "Mocking Bird."

In near proximity to the splendid school building where was established the first consolidated school in the County of Coffee, is the spot where once stood a little log cabin. It was 1873, while the mocking birds were flooding the little log house which was for a time later the only school building in that community. Now we have a fine consolidated school, with an excellent principal and fine teachers.

We hope to give you a list of the committees who will lead in the work of bringing about the above suggested undertakings, but it will not be convenient to give that list this week as the committees have not yet been appointed. Possibly we can give you this information next week. We hope you will look for it and will then give your full co-operation to the committee handling the things in which you are interested.

The Lions Club of Elba is a group of men working for the good of the town and for the good of every citizen in the town. The club makes no boast as to what it has done. It will tell you in advance what it hopes to do, but will not tell you afterwards what it has done. Those who are not members of the club get just as much benefit from the work done by the members of the club as those who are members.

It is hoped by the members of the club that the citizens of the community will inform themselves as to the purposes of the club, its rules and its accomplishments. If this is intelligently done, then we believe that the club will have the full co-operation of every citizen of the town.

"THE COW PEN"

A Corner To Be Used Exclusively For the Promotion of Plan To Locate Better Cows In This County
BY W. M. BRUNSON

Well, we are going to give away a bull, two men or three men to call chickens, cows and hogs just as he calls them at home. The fellow enters the contest by himself, then he will be required to call chickens, cows and hogs just as he calls them at home. The fellow enters the contest by himself, then he will be required to call chickens, cows and hogs just as he calls them at home.

Each man or community wanting the calf will enter the contest and it will be all right for one man, two men or three men to make a trial at the prize. If a fellow enters the contest by himself, then he will be required to call chickens, cows and hogs just as he calls them at home.

HISTORY IN 500 WORDS.

Much content has been caused by the recent announcement that former President Coolidge had been asked to write a history of the United States in 500 words, these words to be carved in stone on the Mount Rushmore Memorial in South Dakota.

It was wondered how Mr. Coolidge, even with his unusual knowledge of the subject, could condense so much into a few words. Now the task has been simplified for him by the committee in charge of the memorial, which has decided that the "history" shall be limited to a consideration of only eight events deemed the most important in the life of the nation. They are these:

Declaration of Independence, 1776; the framing of the Constitution, 1787; the Louisiana Purchase, 1803; the admission of Texas as a State, 1845; the Oregon boundary settlement, 1846; the admission of California as a State, 1850; the Gold Rush, 1849; the completion of the Panama Canal, 1914.

Whether these are the most important incidents in our history or not, they furnish ample material upon which Mr. Coolidge may exercise his talent for condensation.

FORD PHILANTHROPY

It was almost inevitable that Henry Ford should sooner or later adopt some plan for devoting a part of his great fortune to the service of mankind. His plan was announced a few days ago, and involves spending some $100,000,000 for the founding of schools and giving the rest of his active life to the cause of education.

He said that some of the schools would be large institutions and that they would be placed in various parts of the country, but that the number had not been decided. His principal object was stated to be the assistance of young men to find suitable places in the world.

That the proposed Ford schools will stress the practical side of education was also indicated by the donor's expressed belief that every

The creations of the Author, Artist and Composer, the public finds its information and education.

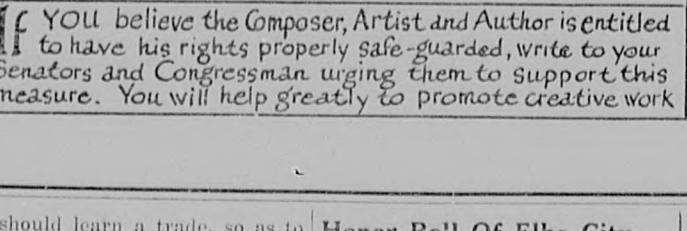

These Creations represent property to those who produce them.

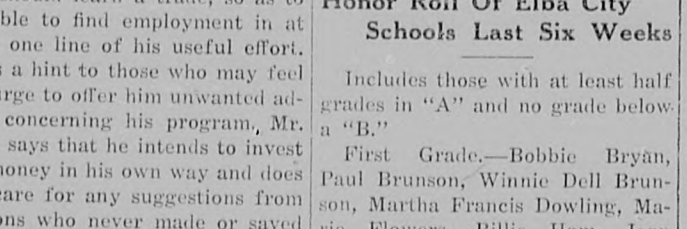

A vast industry, representing a turn-over of more than a billion dollars annually is the direct outgrowth of this creative work.

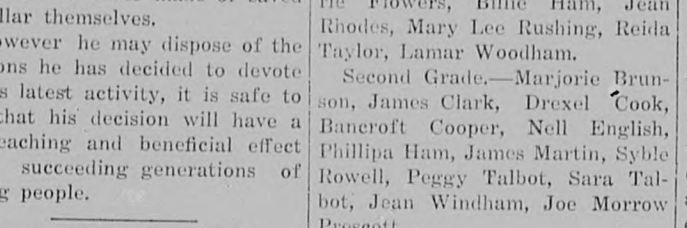

This great business gives employment to hundreds of thousands of people, and yet the rights of those who produce this industry depends, are inadequately protected under our antiquated copyright law.

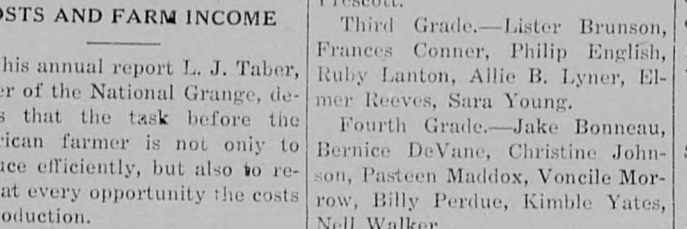

Abill designed to set out the property rights and protect the rights of those who produce and create, is now before Congress.

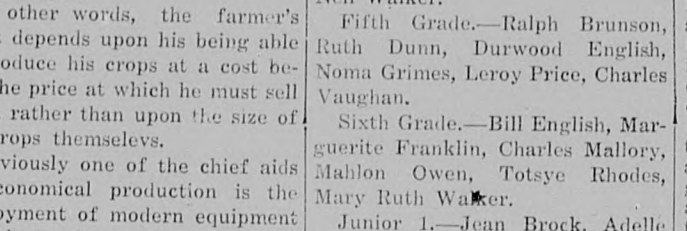

If passed, it will do much to stimulate these arts in our country and the public will benefit.

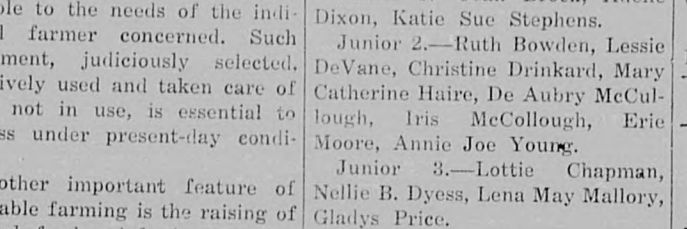

YOU believe the Composer, Artist and Author is entitled to have his rights properly safeguarded, write to your Senators and Congressmen, urge them to support this measure. You will help greatly to promote creative work.

Plant Vegetables After March Frost

After March Frost

AUBURN, Ala., March 4.—The garden planting season in Alabama will be in full swing after the last killing frost in March. Many vegetable plants, such as beans, peas, and corn, can be planted with safety, it is stated by John Brown, extension horticulturist at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

"In fact," said Brown, "it is ordinarily safe to plant at least a week or ten days before the average date of the last killing frost. It takes a few days for the vegetable to come up and carry garden products are the most high priced."

"During March," he continued, "all plants should be transplanted from the hotbed or coldframe to the open field."

ATHEISM
The Russian government's war against religion may have the spark needed to make all Christianity into a common cause against the enemies of God. Incredible as it sounds, the armed and disciplined minority which controls Russia has prohibited religious teaching and preaching, is seizing churches and converting them into museums and factories, is killing off farmers who support the faith.

OUR STOCK IS A GOOD INVESTMENT
A modern cold storage plant will be erected at the State prison farm near Atmore, according to recent announcement by the State Board of Administration. The type of plant and equipment selected would cost approximately $18,000. It is stated, but the actual cost to the State will be only about $12,000.00. Lumber for the plant will be cut and milled on State land by convict labor, which accounts for the saving. Perhaps the most important use of the plant will be for cooling strawberries prior to shipment, which will not only preserve the berries, but make possible heavier loading of cars by cutting down ice requirements. Strawberries are being grown on an extensive scale on the prison farm near Atmore. The plant will also be used for chilling vegetables prior to shipment and for the storage of large quantities of potatoes. The storage plant will be ready for operation April 1st, and it is estimated will pay for itself within three years through saving effected by eliminating waste.

The POULTRY YARD
A Department Devoted To Building Up the Poultry Industry In Coffee County
BY J. F. BRUNSON

I told you last week that I would give you information the week relative to baby chicks and broilers. I wish to vary this, giving you some general information.

BUYING BABY CHICKS
Baby chicks can be bought from eight cents up to fifty cents each, according to the stock and laying record behind them. Don't buy these cheap chicks expecting to get good layers. One hen will lay 100 eggs per year and another will lay 200 per year on the same feed and a few hens go over 300 per year. Now ask yourself which one of these chicks do you wish to raise. If the 100 egg chick is worth eight cents each, the 200 egg chick will be the cheapest at sixteen cents each. If the people who are buying chicks will adhere closely to the plan of eliminating the poor layers in Coffee County, the day will soon dawn upon us that there is no need for a hatchery to be made in the poultry business in the South. When you see notice of another poultry camp coming to Elba, let me suggest that you give your stock a good laying record and let the poor layers go. When you hatch chicks at home it is very essential to know what hen is laying and what eggs. It is but judgment to lay eggs from a poor layer. The eggs may show a good size but the hatchlings will be small and feeble. If what you are going to get is what is hatched—it will still be a poor layer.

PROFITS—Profits come in the extra eggs you secure from your own giving your stock the proper care and attention. If a little arrangement and care is given to your flock and in so doing you secure an extra 24 eggs from each hen, you can quickly see what it means to you. This is one of the failings of our Southern people—we fail to prepare and fail to give proper attention to our property which in return often net us a loss when otherwise we would be receiving a nice profit.

GREATNESS
I intended a special gathering a few weeks ago at which the presenters were asked to decide who were the greatest men of all time. Several persons of name and note were given to the men who named these.

The POULTRY YARD
A Department Devoted To Building Up the Poultry Industry In Coffee County
BY J. F. BRUNSON

I told you last week that I would give you information the week relative to baby chicks and broilers. I wish to vary this, giving you some general information.

BUYING BABY CHICKS
Baby chicks can be bought from eight cents up to fifty cents each, according to the stock and laying record behind them. Don't buy these cheap chicks expecting to get good layers. One hen will lay 100 eggs per year and another will lay 200 per year on the same feed and a few hens go over 300 per year. Now ask yourself which one of these chicks do you wish to raise. If the 100 egg chick is worth eight cents each, the 200 egg chick will be the cheapest at sixteen cents each. If the people who are buying chicks will adhere closely to the plan of eliminating the poor layers in Coffee County, the day will soon dawn upon us that there is no need for a hatchery to be made in the poultry business in the South. When you see notice of another poultry camp coming to Elba, let me suggest that you give your stock a good laying record and let the poor layers go. When you hatch chicks at home it is very essential to know what hen is laying and what eggs. It is but judgment to lay eggs from a poor layer. The eggs may show a good size but the hatchlings will be small and feeble. If what you are going to get is what is hatched—it will still be a poor layer.

PROFITS—Profits come in the extra eggs you secure from your own giving your stock the proper care and attention. If a little arrangement and care is given to your flock and in so doing you secure an extra 24 eggs from each hen, you can quickly see what it means to you. This is one of the failings of our Southern people—we fail to prepare and fail to give proper attention to our property which in return often net us a loss when otherwise we would be receiving a nice profit.

GREATNESS
I intended a special gathering a few weeks ago at which the presenters were asked to decide who were the greatest men of all time. Several persons of name and note were given to the men who named these.
